Summary

"2 Broke Girls" is a comedy about two young women waitressing at a greasy spoon diner who strike up an unlikely friendship in the hopes of launching a successful business - if only they can raise the cash. Sassy, street-wise Max Black works two jobs just to get by, one of which is waiting tables during the night shift at the retro-hip Williamsburg Diner. Sophisticated Caroline Channing is an uptown trust fund princess who's having a run of bad luck that forces her to reluctantly give waitressing a shot. At first, Max sees Caroline as yet another in a long line of inept servers she must cover for, but she's surprised to find that Caroline has as much substance as she does style. When Caroline discovers Max's knack for baking amazing cupcakes, she sees a lucrative future for them, but first they need to raise the start-up money. While they save their tips, they'll stay at the restaurant, working with Oleg, an overly flirtatious Russian cook; Earl, a 75-year-old kool-kat cashier; and Han Lee, the new, eager-to-please owner of the diner. Working together, these two broke girls living in one expensive city might just find the perfect recipe for their big break.

This project was a design for a data-focused Intranet portal for measuring performance and financials.

This is one visual concept I designed for a Construction-focused website, based on the client's requests & brand identity. He wanted something reminiscent of building materials, so I create this concrete background. The main design challenges for this one are related to the enormous amount of data being surfaced to the user, and ensuring that it's friendly & not overwhelming.

These next few screens are just wireframes – no visual polish.

This was a health focused app that helps doctors stay on top of their patients' progress when under any kind of treatment. The client wanted a similar look & feel to the ESPN app. These screens are a hybrid of wireframe & mockup (with placeholder icons, for instance).

This was an app focusd on helping a field Sales Team find info & inventory for all their products.

This is an in-dash experience for INRIX. They were very passionate about the tile treatment in their UI.
